

Dr. Wodak To Join Medical Staff Here

The Greenbelt Health Association announced this week the appointment of Dr. Hans Wodak to its medical staff. Dr. Wodak will start his work September 1, when Dr. William Eisner's resignation will be in effect. Negotiations for securing a second physician are almost completed and the result will be announced shortly.

Dr. Wodak is of Czechoslovakian origin and received his medical education at the University of Prague, from which he was graduated in 1925. After four years of general practice in Prague he served for two years as assistant physician and then for seven years as chief of staff at one of the foremost European hospitals for internal and nervous diseases. Dr. Wodak is a leading specialist in these fields, besides being an excellent general practitioner with up-to-date experience in obstetrics. Since March 1941 he has been on the staff of the Springfield State Hospital in Sykesville, Md. Mrs. Wodak will make her home here with her husband.

Neighbor Groups Discuss Meeting Agenda for Aug. 23

In many parts of town this week Co-op members met in "neighborhood nights" to make nominations for the Greenbelt Consumer Services election and to discuss items on the agenda of that organization's quarterly meeting of August 23.

It is reported by Donald H. Cooper, education committee chairman of the Co-op, that in two of the town's nine sections set up for the Co-op warden system, section chiefs have met with their neighborhood wardens and these wardens have talked over the organization's problems with their neighbors. He said that members in several other neighborhoods are expected to meet with their wardens next week.

The agenda for the quarterly meeting on August 23 was mailed out to the 1400 members last week. Considerations of a change in remuneration for directors of Greenbelt Consumer Services is expected to provoke considerable floor discussion. Walter Volckhausen has proposed that nothing be paid to directors, and George Eshbaugh is urging that they each be paid $5 per Board meeting. A proposed amendment to the by-laws would permit the capital stock maximums of the corporation to be raised. A discussion of the drug store management is also listed.

Besides the election of four directors three members of the auditing committee will be selected. E. Don Bullion has been chairman of the auditing committee since May, 1943. Nominations for directors and auditing committee members close tomorrow night at 5 o'clock.

Four 3-month passes to the Greenbelt Theater are announced as door prizes to encourage members to arrive on time and to stay until the close of the meeting.

Jack Gale Recovering From Saipan Injury

Jack Gale, Pfc. Marine, is recovering in a Naval Hospital after being severely wounded July 8 on Saipan Island in the western Pacific. Information sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gale, 1-A Woodland Way, declared that Jack had lost his right arm and suffered shrapnel wounds in his chest and neck.

He had participated in the invasion of the Marshalls and then was sent to a rest camp preceding the recent action in the Mariannas which made him a casualty.

Active in Boy Scout Troop 202 and in local athletics, Jack made many friends in Greenbelt.

His present address is: U. S. Naval Hospital, Navy No. 10, Ward A-1, c-o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Cal.

$50 Reward Posted To Curb Vandals

A reward of $50 is being posted for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone destroying public property in the Town of Greenbelt. This was the latest step taken by the Town Council in an attempt to halt increasing vandalism here.

The latest destruction centers around the Elementary School building. Within the last several weeks nine of the large window panes have been broken, and two dozen of the glass bricks in the west side panels have been smashed. It is believed that repair work to the glass brick will be an especially costly job, as the bricks are grooved to fit together in series.

Players Get Free Tennis Court Use

Free tennis will be enjoyed on week days for the rest of the summer on the Greenbelt courts as a result of action by the Town Council Tuesday night. Observing the small number of players on the courts this summer town officials decided on this experiment to eliminate the cost of an attendant on week days and to keep the courts in more constant use.

The usual charges will be made on Sundays and holidays, with an attendant present.

"We are depending on the residents to take good care of the courts and to arrange their schedules for using the courts without conflict," said one councilman in urging that week-day fees be dropped.

Women Bowlers Begin Plans for Fall Season

Rose Sansone, secretary of the Greenbelt Women's Bowling League, has called for all interested lady bowlers to meet in the Greenbelt Athletic Club on Tuesday, August 15, at 8:30 p. m. Important measures will be taken up such as forming of teams and electing of captains. Any women not previously connected with the league as well as old members are requested to come.

Names Wanted for Greenbelt Honor Roll of Men in Service

Town Manager James Gobbel said this week that he is anxious to get the names of all residents or former residents who are serving in the armed forces and who are eligible to have their names placed on the Greenbelt Honor Roll in the shopping center.

The Honor Roll now has only the names of former residents who died in service and the delay in placing other names on the Roll has been due primarily to the inability to get the names printed. However, it is expected that name plates can be painted in the very near future and it is desired to have plates painted for all eligible persons as quickly as possible.

In order to be eligible for the Honor Roll, a person must have gone into the armed forces while a resident of Greenbelt or have been a member of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard or Marines and lived in Greenbelt prior to December 7, 1941.

Local officials have the names of

Health Dept. Says Polio on the Wane

Nineteen-month-old John Attas, Jr. of 10-B Plateau Place, Greenbelt's second reported polio case, is expected home this Tuesday. He will have been three weeks in an isolation ward at Children's Hospital taking the Sister Kenney treatment. Mrs. Attas reports that the baby suffered no paralysis, only a general weakness, and that his illness began with sore throat and fever. A Navy doctor made the diagnosis.

Greenbelt's first reported case, eight-year-old Lois Marie Dirschel, 51-H Ridge Road, died August 2.

The United States Public Health Department has assured Town Manager James Gobbel and Public Health Officer William Eisner that the epidemic is subsiding in the two main infection areas, New York and North Carolina, and that the local situation does not warrant any panic. Public Health officials feel that usual gatherings should not be prohibited, Mr. Gobbel stated. The important thing to remember, they agreed, is to keep children out of hot sun and from over-exertion at any form of activity.

Barber Shop Gets Jones As New Manager

Monday morning the Greenbelt barber shop will open with a new manager. O. B. Jones, a Washington barber with 20 years experience, will replace Mike Juliano who has been manager of the local shop ever since it opened in 1938.

General Manager Tom Ricker, of Greenbelt Consumer Services, gave no indication of the reasons for Mr. Juliano's resignation, but it is reported that there has been some difference of opinion about closing hours for the shop. Mr. Juliano said he would continue to live in Greenbelt.

The shop will open at 10 a. m. and close at 8 p. m., Mr. Ricker says. There will be no change in prices.

Harry Steinour, the second barber is expected back from vacation Monday, and negotiations are under way for a third barber, in order to reduce waiting by customers.

Construction Starts on Schools As Town Councilmen Consider Plans for Recreation Building

Actual construction of Greenbelt's new elementary school started this week, when the Nardis Construction Co. men erected a contractor's shack on Ridge Road between Laurel Hill Road and Research Road, and began to assemble equipment and building materials.

Work is also now under way on the addition to the Greenbelt High School at the Edmonston Road and Branchville Road intersection.

Swim Meet Mon.

If Jupe Pluvius Stays Away

The much talked of local swimming meet that was rained out two weeks ago will be held at our pool Monday evening, August 14, starting at 7:30.

Additional starters in the various events have been pouring in steadily for the couple of weeks since the postponement and seem to indicate a healthy spirit of competition.

Pool Manager Tom Donahue and swimming instructor Lois Bowman have lined up a couple of high and low board diving exhibitionists who are sure to please the spectators and contestants alike. They are Pvt. Larry "Whitey" Zosack, of the Camp Ord Rehabilitation Center, and pretty Barbara McCutcheon, of Maryland University who performed beautifully in an exhibition here last summer.

Chairman Maps Program Strategy

Citizens Association president Wells Harrington announces Carl Hintz as program chairman for the coming year. Mr. Hintz is librarian at the University of Maryland and lives in Parkbelt.

In view of the coming election Mr. Hintz intends to play up campaign issues. A "nationally known" person will be invited to address the September meeting. For the last meeting before the election Mr. Hintz is planning an old-fashioned political rally and debate between representatives of opposite camps.

Officers and committee chairmen already appointed are Mrs. Edna George, vice-president, David Granahan, treasurer; Mrs. June Wilbur, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Evelyn Cooper, recording secretary. Mrs. Tillie Wetter is membership chairman, Mr. Granahan heads the education committee and George Tretter has charge of the welcoming committee. Mrs. Mary Dodson heads welfare, Jim Smith, ways and means. Mrs. Ebba Stewart and Mrs. Anne Hull are co-chairmen of publicity.

The Citizens Association customarily meets on the first Monday of each month. All Greenbelt residents are eligible to attend and participate.

WPB Permits Radio Sale James Gobbel Announces

Town Manager James Gobbel announced at the Council meeting last Tuesday that WPB had authorized the purchase of two-way radio apparatus for use by the two police patrol cars. The sets will cost $500 each, and be paid for out of the town budget.

When the sets are installed, direct connection with Hyattsville as well as the Greenbelt police station will be possible, and calls may be relayed to other points.

Greenbelt has been negotiating for the purchase of the sets for two years, it was revealed.

Playgrounds To Present Show for War Bond Sale

The war conscious kiddies of the new Ridge Road and Plateau Place playground will present a War Bond show tonight. Under the guidance of Miss Joan Deitzel, playground director, the children

Following on the heels of this news came an announcement from Mayor Allen Morrison Tuesday night that the long-promised recreation building is being considered again. He explained that it seemed particularly appropriate to make a decision on this project while two contracting firms have their men and equipment in Greenbelt at work on the school construction.

No plans have been drawn yet for the recreation structure, but Mayor Morrison said that in general there had been agreement upon a two-story building with showers and locker rooms on the first floor and a recreation room on the second floor. The tentative location is on the hillside near the Swimming Pool, so that both floors would open onto the ground without stairs being required.

It is not anticipated that special funds would be required for this, since sufficient savings in the current town budget are expected to yield a sufficient amount of money, the mayor explained.

The new elementary school in the northend of town will be completed by the beginning of December according to the contract let by the Public Buildings Administration. This building will have 12 classrooms and several auxiliary rooms. The cost will be $138,440 for the permanent brick construction, L-shaped, and two stories high.

The nine-room addition to the high school is being built by E. J. Daniels Co. at a cost of $99,147. This is also to be finished by December.

Both schools will relieve the overcrowding which was admittedly a serious condition at both of Greenbelt's present schools.

Care Centers Ask For Fresh Produce

The county director of child care centers recently issued an appeal to parents and friends for donations of fresh vegetables and fruits.

"Like many private families", commented Miss Lucile Lewis, "we find that our grocery bills are high, in fact higher than we want them. We may have to cut out some luxuries, but we do not want to cut down on fresh produce."

Several Greenbelt mothers responded to the appeal by bringing in corn, tomatoes and squash from their victory gardens to the child care center at 14 Parkway.

THE WAR COMES TO GREENBELT

A loud report shattered the air last Tuesday evening and woke peaceful Greenbelters to action. Wondering if murder had come at last to Greenbelt residents kept Police phones busy as the sturdy coppers rushed to the rescue in the woods surrounding the center playground. Did they find the body? Well no, but they did discover a soldier back from overseas demonstrating the workings of a booby trap works to his interested wife.

The soldier was warned that such things are frowned upon in Greenbelt and so ended another good story.

have arranged the entire show themselves.

The events include group singing of popular war songs, a display of captured Jap and German equipment (which has been sent home by relatives in the armed services) and individual performances.

Neighbors are invited to attend. Each week one of the many town playgrounds sponsored by the recreation department has some sort of show or contest to which parents and friends of the youngsters are welcome.

A Bigger Job

Although Greenbelt's loss is considerable no one will regret Paul Barnhart's appointment as principal of Bladensburg High School. The new job is a big one with responsibilities far beyond those carried by him as principal at Greenbelt High.

Mr. Barnhart's three years in charge of the local school were unfortunate only in one respect—many of his plans for improving the curriculum and facilities could not be adopted because of the abnormal situation in regard to budgets and teaching personnel. Even so the improvement was marked. One result of his insistent energy will not be available for him to enjoy—the addition to the high school building.

Since Mr. Barnhart lives in Greenbelt and took an active part in community affairs we are particularly happy to see him accepted to a position of high service in another part of Prince Georges County. This marks for us still another step in the assimilation of Greenbelt into the surrounding area.

Here, too, is one more instance of a Greenbelter going on to a better job from a start in our community. In these last several years we have seen many of our neighbors who worked for the Town Administration leave to take more responsible positions. Clerks in our stores have become managers of co-op stores in other communities. We are proud of these 'graduates', and only wish that more of them, like Paul Barnhart, could continue to live in Greenbelt after they are "promoted".

Bike Safety

A new amendment to a town ordinance controlling the use of bicycles underlines the firm intention of town officials to force upon bike riders strict observance of safety precautions. The new regulation requires that these vehicles be left only in designated parking places, namely at the curb along streets or in the racks provided in the Shopping Center.

Existing rules require that all owners obtain from the town office a license plate to assist in the return of lost and stolen bicycles as well as to control the use of bicycles. Jim Gobbel has emphasized again that bicycles must be used on the streets and not under any circumstances along the walks. He has pointed out the danger to small children of bike traffic, and urged that accidents be prevented rather than regretted.

All bicycles are supposed to be equipped with front light, tail reflector and horn or bell. Warnings issued with increasing severity in recent weeks are to be replaced now by the imposition of fines for violations.

TOWN ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 77 REGARDING THE LICENSING AND REGULATING THE USE OF BICYCLES.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the Town of Greenbelt that paragraph j of Section 8.64 of Ordinance No. 77 shall be amended by adding the following sentences:

"Any bicycles which are illegally parked shall be taken to the Police Station or to some place designated by the Director of Public Safety and a service charge of 50 cents shall be made against the owner before the bicycle may be reclaimed. This service charge shall be in addition to any other penalties provided by this Ordinance."

"Toots"

By KATHLEEN SCOTT
and PAT BROWN

The Band presented the fifth concert in its summer series last Sunday. Soloists were Billy May and Ralph Townsend, who played a cornet duet, "Chums Polka". This was their first appearance as soloists with the Greenbelt Band. Ralph, age 10, was recently advanced to the regular Band from the Feeder Band, and Billy, age 11, has played with the Holy Redeemer School Band. Both Boys have been studying under Bandmaster Dana Garrett, whose capable teaching was reflected in their commendable performance.

The next concert in the series will take place on Sunday at 7:00 p. m. in the circle in front of the elementary school. "Home Sweet Home the World Over", postponed from last week, will be featured on the program. This opus, dedicated to the "March King", John Philip Sousa, in commemoration of his 'round the world concert tour, typifies this famous melody in the musical moods most characteristic of the folk songs and dances of countries all over the world.

John Colliver, president of the Band, returned this week from his so-called vacation, during which he was laid up with appendicitis. Everyone was glad to see him back in as good spirits as ever, in spite of his unfortunate mishap.

Two former members of the Greenbelt Band, Tommy Caton and Jim Ourand, were present in uniform at last Sunday's concert. Tommy, who entered the Army on August 2, and is now at the reception center at Ft. Meade awaiting further orders, played trumpet both in the Band and the Serenaders, where his absence is deeply felt. Jim, now studying engineering under the Army's ASTP Program at Carnegie Tech, has been an active member of the Greenbelt Band from its very beginning.

The concert orchestra has increased its membership by four players. Betty Jean Wood, flute, George Sheaffer, sax, and Robert Scott and Bill Baxter, trumpets, are the newcomers. In spite of this increase, however, the Orchestra, in preparation for its fall concert, needs more members. If you can make music come out of that old fiddle, flute or clarinet (or what have you), no matter how inexperienced you may be, come down next Tuesday evening at 8:30 p. m. to the social room at the school and meet some of your musical neighbors. This is an excellent opportunity to brush up on those scales, runs, and whole notes, and have some real fun doing it.

It's fairly easy to stand off and tell the Government how to run the war.

Greenbelt Men To Attend Annual Manresa Retreat

The week-end of August 18 to 21 will find approximately twenty-five Catholic men of Greenbelt dropping their business affairs and leaving their homes and families to retire into the seclusion and peace of Manresa on the Severn.

Manresa, overlooking Chesapeake Bay and the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, is annually attended by thousands of retreatants. Founded upon the example of Our Lord himself, the retreat provides the opportunity of withdrawing from the distractions of the world and of looking seriously into the care of one's soul. The men's time will be spent in prayer, meditation, listening to sermons and instructions, and partaking in various religious services, with periods of recreation and relaxation in between.

The hospitality of Manresa is open to all, Catholic and non-Catholic. Arrangements for attending the retreat may be made by contacting Leroy F. Day of 9-J Ridge rd., phone Greenbelt 4396.

We're learning to appreciate our Greenbelt Athletic Club. We've belonged ever since six years ago last payday and we've indulged in its sponsored sports from time to time and attended its meetings on a now and then basis and have taken in many of its big monthly dances and more of its sporadic weekly jam sessions. Our working hours have prevented us from taking its functions in to the fullest but we've always felt that, by golly, it was MY club to go to at my pleasure.

Its members, particularly charter members—but including scads of more recent brothers, have

Braden Field 'Rocks Extend Streak As Ernie Boggs Checks Bethesda, 4-3; Scalise, Life, Picket, Zerwick Hit

By Bill Moore
Jim Breed's Greenbelt Shamrocks made it 3 wins in a row at Braden Field last Sunday when they eked out a 4 to 3 triumph over a Bethesda club whose strength was grossly misrepresented. The 'Rocks were none too strong themselves as they took the field but proved themselves adequate with the hickory as the misty game progressed. Ernie Boggs was the winning pitcher and did very well despite handling a slippery ball most of the way. He fanned 7 batters and franked 4.

Lively Lad
This fellow Mervin Life seems to be just the player to have around. Needing a firstsacker, Pilot Breed beckoned to Life, who went into his black zipper-bag and came out with a firstbaseman's mitt. Breed explored the bag to find it contained a catcher's mitt, too! Master Mervin admitted that he had caught a little! He had a busy day around the initial sack, handling 17 chances flawlessly, and dimmed not his great hitting start of last week by getting two more hits, one a double, in this tilt.

In keeping with his late pen-chance for coming up with bat-lively newcomers, Jim Breed fielded another rightfielder Sunday. Needing a ninth player, not counting Shanty Havener in reserve, he played Marshall "Ace" Pickett in the sun garden and the "Acer" came through with 2 singles in four tries. Pickett, home on fur-lough from action with the Navy in the Pacific used to play with Maurice Purdy, Pete Scalise and the write a "couple" of years ago.

Scalise and Bill Zerwick also got 2 hits apiece to aid the Green cause. Both of Pete's went for doubles and Zerwick made it 3 games straight in which he doubled, his second hit was a single.

Greenbelt, never headed, should have won the tilt by a wider margin but the "tenth man" had a tough time of it in the seventh inning. The Bethesdaans were a better arguing team than they were a ball playing team and had given the "Number 10 man" the business all along so not too much was said on the plate confusion in the home seventh.

This Is How
Bill Zerwick doubled with one out in the first, took third on Pete Scalise's bunt and scored on a wild pitch. The Big Green picked up two more runs in the second on bingles by Jim Breed, Jack Burt, Pickett's two bagger and Joe Todd's single. Zerwick's second hit came in the inning but did not figure in the scoring.

Ernie Boggs walked Pugh in the visitor's third and Burt threw M. Barnes' roller out into rightfield, runners advancing to second and third, from where they scored on firstbaseman Wagner's single.

Bethesda tied up the game in the sixth semester with an un-earned marker, two infield errors and a stolen base figuring. The Irish got the winning margin in the seventh canto which Donnie Wolfe started by being franked to first. Pete Scalise got his second straight two bagger at this point and Merv Life showed the "old life" with a solid single that sent the "Wolf" home with the bacon.

United Typewriters comes back to Braden Field for a single contest with the Shamrocks Sunday. The game will start promptly at one o'clock. Manager Breed will not be present and turns over the reins to the writer. Oh boy! Ed Bng, Cleveland sport writer, has been running the Indians with his acid pen for years, and now we get our chance.

The Screen

By HENRY KOLIN
With this issue is inaugurated a movie review column which we hope will prove valuable to busy Greenbelters. Our purpose is to call attention to the better pictures shown at the Greenbelt

Theatre and to also urge the early showing of some of the screen's finer offerings. If there are any pictures that you would like to see, or have any suggestions to offer, please write to the Cooperator and let us know.

Next week's offerings:
Sunday and Monday, Aug. 13, 14 —"Andy Hardy's Blonde Trouble". Same old corn but still manages to be fitfully funny. A tintype of the previous Andy Hardy pictures, only with twins this time.

Tues. and Wednesday, Aug. 15, 16—"Curse of the Cat People" and "Gildersleeve on Broadway". "Curse of the Cat People" is definitely recommended. While originally designed for the horror trade, this proves to be a top-notch Grade B sleeper. Actually it is a psychological study of the hallucinations of a troubled child's mind. See it, even if you skip "Gildersleeve on Broadway" which is routine Hollywood hokum.

Thursday and Friday, Aug. 17, 18—"Guadalcanal Diary"—Recomended. This picture is distinguished by a fine performance by William Bendix in a better than average war film which is fairly realistic.

For future entertainment, watch for the following pictures, all representing pinnacles of cinematic entertainment: "Address Unknown", "Song of Bernadette", "Going My Way", "City That Stopped Hitler", "No Greater Love", "Jeannie".

An ideal double feature revival for a Friday-Saturday show that I would like to see again: "The Forgotten Village" and "Adventures of Chico". Both are excellent pictures for children that adults find stimulating and delightful. The book, "The Forgotten Village", illustrated with stills from the picture, is in the Greenbelt Library.

ROASTING EARS NEVER TASTED SO GOOD!

Way back in 1885, when the first NATIONAL BOHEMIAN was brewed folks raved about that grand combination...roasting ears and NATIONAL BOHEMIAN. To-day as in those days of long ago, the corn still grows sweet and juicy. And to-day, as in those days of long ago, NATIONAL BOHEMIAN foams pleasantly and eagerly to bring you the correct hearty drink.

for Pure enjoyment

POCO AT BAT

brought the club a long ways from the days of the old tool shack up behind the Medical Center. Not only did they remodel that old town construction days shack into a livable clubhouse, but when the time came to move out they pitched in and wholeheartedly built the present one. A lot of labor was strictly amateur, tho many of the fellows proved quite skillful. Much of the material was given the club by J. and J. construction company during the erection of new Greenbelt and needed cash was raised by dances, etc.

So much for that—the club stands down beyond Braden Field for our enjoyment, as much as we care to enjoy it.

Club prexy, Jim Flynn, his board of officers and many of the members have high hopes and plans for their club. They've done a lot of interior decorating lately—and the job looks swell. They want to buy a lot of nice new furniture, improve the grounds and make the place generally more homey. The big desire is to make the place ready and keep it ready for the many, many members it has in our armed forces and they mean to do the job.

We had a taste of those ideals last Saturday night and we couldn't help but feel proud—a bit—of our club. Sailor Ben Gold-faden came home on a week-end pass from Bainbridge. So, with our better halves, we went on down to the club. A nice gathering was already present and more drifted in from time to time. Most of the crowd was the home guard, like ourselves, but there were some of our fellow club members home on furlough or weekend passes.

There were Jean Nance, so recently Navyed and his wife, Sailor "Chick" Turner and Mrs. Turner and Mr. and Mrs. "Navy" Dick Althaus among those present. They were home but briefly and the club served as a common home for the whole gang to get their hellos said to friends they couldn't hope to visit with individually. And that is only the beginning of what Jim Flynn and all of us hope to make of our club for our brothers who are overseas for their return. Fellows like Harry Griffin, John Bozek, Frank Russo, just to mention a few. They'll be coming back some day—soon we hope.

Those plans take dough; and Jim Flynn & Co. have a painless way to raise it. They are putting on a midnight show at the local movie tomorrow (Saturday) night. Jack Fruchtmann came through with the loaning of the movie house and equipment for the showing and helped secure a very desirable film, "King of the Rings" the proven very popular film history of the boxing game, showing all the great fighters and fights from the early days of the sport up to the present.

The film will run from midnight until 1:30 a. m. After the showing the gang is privileged to trek over to the clubhouse and dance to Van Camp's music from 2 until 4. What a night for 60 cents per person! And for what a cause! We believe new furniture will be purchased very soon—for our comfort now and for the comfort of the guys we'd like to see hime right now.

Do you get what we mean when we say we're learning to appreciate our club a little more here lately?

The Greenbelt Reps, local softballers, dropped an interesting game to Mt. Rainier last Saturday evening. Interesting because it was a truer test of which had the better team with the exclusion of the pitcher. The Mounts won by 2-1 behind Tommy Dobyns. Jack Burt, of all people, pitched for the Reps and behaved very admirably. Al Bowman used some of the local youngsters in his lineup.

The Reps had a game with Camp Ord for last Tuesday evening but the soldiers failed to show up.

Boy Scout Drive Is Speeded Up

Louis B. Arnold, chairman for the Prince Georges County Boy Scout funds drive, announced the drive will continue this month in an effort to reach the goal set to insure efficient money for the maintenance and improvements of the 55-acre tract of land being used by the Scouts as their camp on the Edmonston Road near Greenbelt.

Football Moguls Planning County League This Fall

It is beginning to look as if there will be a Prince Georges County Football League this fall according to C. J. VanCamp, coach of the local Packers. With only casual interest and even lighter attempt of several prospective candidates at practice at this early date, the men behind the various teams are buried in plans for the coming campaign.

With the Packers will be teams from Berwyn, College Park, Hyattsville, Cottage City, Sligo, VAN CAMP Mt. Rainier and the independent Maryland Mohawks. The champion will be awarded a huge trophy.

Coach Van Camp wants interested boys to report to Braden Field at 6:30 any evening from now on for early prepping on kicking and passing. He wants to get a line on all the last year's squad and any new boy interested in coming out. Call him at Greenbelt 4102.

Before reporting for regular scrimmage practice some time in September every boy will have to submit to a physical checkup by a doctor and a note from him indicating whether the candidate is in proper health to stand the rigorous season. Also each boy will have to bring a letter from his parents indicating their willingness for the boy to play and releasing the Town of Greenbelt and the coaching staff from any responsibility in case of injury.

The town furnishes jerseys, helmets and shoulder pads to boys not having that equipment. Players are expected to furnish their own cleated shoes, supporters, pants and sweatshirts.

VanCamp will be ably assisted by the veteran coaches Kenny R. Maschauer and Dick Coulter, Sr. but invites additional help from any other former player, coach or referee.

Big Days Coming Soon for Local Robin Hoods

On August 21 and 22, the Recreation Department will sponsor their annual archery tournaments for the adults and teen-agers of Greenbelt. Using the Junior Columbia Round for the younger archers 12 years old through 16 and the Columbia Round for the adults 16 and over, the tournaments will begin promptly at 10 o'clock the morning of Monday the 21st. The highest five in each tournament will be given a chance on August 22nd also at 10 o'clock to shoot for the championship. The tournaments will be open to any resident of Greenbelt whether or not he is a member of the summer archery classes.

As a special attraction for the closing day, Jean O. Tenney, Physical Education Instructor at the University of Maryland, will give an archery demonstration. Miss Tenney held the Women's National Archery Campionship for 1937 and 1938 and should give a very interesting display of skill. Also on Tuesday awards will be made to the first and second placers in each tournament.

The targets and equipment are available daily on Braden Field from 11 to 12 a. m. for anyone interested in practicing. Archery fans are also encouraged to bring their own equipment for both practice and tournaments. Entries for the tournaments will be taken any day on the field by Eileen Mudd, archery instructor, from 11 to 12 a. m. or they can be made at any time at the recreation office in person or over the phone, Greenbelt 6966.

FIVE GOOD WAYS TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE

1 BRING OUT the fine flavor in coffee thru careful preparation and the use of clean utensils. Properly ground coffee is of prime importance and should be specially ground for different types of coffee pots.

Accepted Methods of Coffee Making

2 For a regular pot use coarse ground coffee. Measure 1 heaping tablespoon of coffee for each cup of water into the pot. Add an extra measure. Pour boiling water over the coffee. Stir and let simmer for about five minutes. Do not boil. Serve immediately.

3 In a drip coffee maker use finely ground coffee. Measure 1 heaping tablespoon of coffee for each cup of water into the dripper. Measure boiling water and pour over the coffee. Let the coffee drip into the pot. Keep warm while dripping. Remove dripper when water has filtered through the coffee. Cover pot and serve.

4 Medium ground coffee should be used in a percolator. Measure boiling water into the pot. Measure into the basket, heaping tablespoon of coffee for each cup and place into percolator. Let percolate from 5 to 10 minutes. Serve at once. Over percolation will spoil the flavor.

5 Use coffee ground extra fine in a vacuum pot. Measure water in bottom section. Put top section in place. Measure 1 heaping tablespoon of finely ground coffee for each cup into the upper section. Place over heat. When the water has been forced into the upper section let gurggle for a minute and remove from fire. As soon as the coffee has filtered back, remove top. Serve immediately.

To really succeed in any of the above methods and to get an excellent cup of coffee use CO-OP RED BAG COFFEE in each case. It comes to your co-op in the whole bean form and is specially ground to your specifications upon purchase. Then too, you save as much as 5 cents a pound by buying coffee in the bag.
